Police Catch B & E Suspect

A robbery at Skips Sport Shop on M-72 West was foiled early Sunday morning, February 18, when local police arrested a nineteen year old Grayling man while he was attempting to break into the sporting goods store.

Officers from the Crawford County Sheriff Dept. and the Grayling Police Dept. responded to the call of a burglary in progress at about 2:46 a.m. Sunday morning and arrived at the store at the same time as the owner.

According to the police report, as the officers approached the building the owner spotted the suspect hiding in the open part of the carport.

After investigating the scene, it was discovered that the suspect attempted to break a pane of "unbreakable" glass with a crowbar.

At the time of his arrest, the suspect was wearing a snow camouflage suit.

'Chicken Little' Money May Top $3 Million

The Chicken Little research project at Camp Grayling's Range 30 may bring in more money to Crawford County than the $2,980,000 first announced by the military Feb. 8.

LTC Wayne Koppa, Camp Grayling Commander, said the amount spent for hiring local people (mainly for security work) may end up being more than double the amount first announced. The joint U.S. Air Force/U.S. Army project originally estimated about $220,000 for salaries of local people hired to assist with the project.

Koppa said when the project is finished, he is going to ask the military for another total on the money brought into the area.

The military estimates about $2,980,000 will be spent in northern Michigan by the research project. If the total spent for local salaries increases, the amount could top $3 million. The following chart on the economic impact of the research project was published in last week's Avalanche and is being printed again because of an error in the headline above the Chicken Little story. (The page one headline last week incorrectly said the research project was bringing in $298,000 to the area.)

The biggest boost to the area is an estimated $1,500,000 spent on room and board by persons connected with the research project. The project testing will take place on Range 30 from Feb. 12 to March 30. Camp Grayling Commander Koppa said people involved with the project were in the area before Feb. 12 setting up the test site and there will be people here after March 30 closing down the test site.

The testing will evaluate sensors that can detect and track targets on the battlefield. Vehicles will be stationary or moving along roads on the range and aircraft with sensors will fly back and forth over the vehicles for as long as two hours.

No explosives or weapons are to be tested. The tests include the use of low-level lasers which will only be operated in the closed-off fenced area of Range 30. Both stationary and roving guards will be used to help keep civilians out of the testing area.

An additional strip of land next to the south side of the fenced area will also be restricted to public access during this year's Chicken Little II testing period. Officials said this restriction is not so much for safety concerns, but because of the security classification of some of the test equipment being used. This restricted area is described as the military land bordered on the WHITE-OUT DAY-GHS junior Mike McMillan, dressed as the Grim Reaper, puts a black arm band on freshman Kelly Walters. This act symbolized another random highway death due to alcohol abuse as GHS participated in SADD's White-Out Day.

Grim Reaper Reaches Out For High School Students

The Students Against Driving Drunk (SADD) Chapter of Grayling High School sponsored its first "White-Out Day" on Friday, February 2.

The purpose of a "White-Out Day", explained GHS junior and SADD President Mike McMillan, is to make the student body aware of the fact that one person dies every 22 minutes in an alcohol-related traffic accident in the United States.

"White-Out Day" got its name from the procedure used at some schools of whitening out the faces of the volunteer victims. At GHS, however, only Mike, dressed in a hooded black robe as the Grim Reaper, had his face painted in white and black.

Then, for the entire school day, the Grim Reaper pulled 17 members of SADD from their classes — one every 22 minutes — and applied black arm bands around each of his victims. The students were then instructed not to talk for the rest of the day as a symbol of their "deaths".

Mike emphasized that the student volunteers were chosen randomly because, "you never know if you're going to die in an alcohol-related accident."

The GHS Chapter of SADD has been active for the past three academic years. Other 1989-90 officers include:

senior Andy Moore, vice president; senior Joanna Myers, secretary; junior Lisa Jo Barber, treasurer; and juniors Erin Bindschattel and Shannon Hinds, representatives to Student Council. SADD advisor is William Bonkowski.

Bands Perform Feb. 22

On Thursday evening, February 22, the Learning Through Music concert Series will continue as three area high school bands will present pieces that they will play at the State District Band Festival. This performance will allow area residents to give their local band a good send off to district competition while also seeing some other excellent area bands.

Joining the Grayling High School Band and conductor Dennis Ormsbee will be the Mio High School Band, Jean Hughes conducting, and the Elk Rapids High School band with David McKeon conducting. Individual tickets at $5 are available for this performance. Parents of Band members will receive a discount. This concert is part of the Learning Through Music Series which is supported financially by Georgia Pacific Corporation, Chemical Bank North, Grayling State Bank, Old Kent Bank of Gaylord, Great Lakes Bancorp, and Michigan Council for the Arts. The first band will begin at 7:30 p.m. at the Joseph Stripe Auditorium at Grayling High School. Mio will perform first, followed by Elk Rapids and Grayling.

Teen Juries To Assist Probate Youth Cases

Juvenile offenders going before Probate Judge John G. Hunter may soon be facing a jury of their peers, other young people, age 16 to 18.

The new Teen Jury Program, which has been successful in several southern Michigan county Probate Courts, will soon be adopted by the probate court in Crawford County.

The program will educate students in the court process and provide a means for teenagers to review juvenile behavior which cause court involvement.

The teen jury will consist of 14 junior and senior students from the Grayling High School. Jury selection will be made by the coordinating teachers, Howard Lehti and Tom Mills and high school principal, Carl Naughtin, following completion of a juror personal history questionnaire and a parental consent form.

Twelve students will serve as jurors, one will serve as bailiff and one as the court clerk. One of the twelve jurors will act as the jury foreman.

These teen juries will be part of actual probate court proceedings. They will be allowed to question the juvenile and his parents in order to develop a disciplinary recommendation for Judge Hunter.

When the jury has finished asking their questions, Judge Hunter said they will leave the courtroom and deliberate on their recommendations. When they return, the foreman will hand the jury's recommendation to him. Possible disciplinary recommendations could include: written reports to be completed by the juvenile with terms to be determined by the jury, quiet room placement, house arrest and length of confinement, community service, restitution, warning with no further action and counseling referral.

The final decision of disciplinary action (disposition) is left to Judge Hunter's discretion.

"I told the students when I appeared before them to explain the program that I cannot and will not give up my discretion," said Judge Hunter. "But by virtue of the fact that I am inviting their participation by questioning the juvenile and the parents, I am going to listen very carefully to what they have to say and I am going to strongly consider their recommendation."

"Teen jurors will receive hands-on experience, not only in government," said Judge Hunter, "but in the juvenile division of the probate court, which is the court that looks after their interests and applies corrective measures if they violate the law."

Only youth who are first offenders committing misdemeanors will be eligible for a teen jury hearing. Examples of eligible cases that could go before a teen jury are shoplifting, school yard fighting and a minor in possession of alcohol.

To qualify for the Teen Jury Program, the offender must first acknowledge his or her offense, in essence plead guilty, although technically there are no guilty or innocent pleas in juvenile court. The offender must then appear before Judge Hunter for a preliminary hearing where the Teen Jury Program will be explained. If the parents and juvenile agree to participate in the program, a teen jury will be scheduled.

Judge Hunter said the primary benefit for the juveniles who agree to participate in the Teen Jury Program and successfully complete the disciplinary requirements handed down by Judge Hunter is that their petitions will be dismissed. There will be no offense listed on their permanent record.

Another benefit that Judge Hunter hopes will result from this program, is empathy and a better understanding among the youth of the community regarding why the juvenile in court is in trouble and the variety of circumstances that existed to bring about the situation.

When the subject of retaliation, from either the juvenile or friends of the juvenile, on any jury member was raised by both the students and the cooperating teachers, Judge Hunter said any form of retaliation would be considered an obstruction of justice, and he said he does not expect that to occur with the teen jury any more than it would be allowed with adult jurors. He said fear of retaliation cannot interfere with the jury's determination or deliberation.

Judge Hunter said he met with the coordinating teachers about four weeks ago and then appeared before a school assembly to explain the concept of the program. Students were asked to get back with their individual teachers if they were interested in participating in the program. He said the initial response was very favorably, with about 40 percent of the students indicating that they would like to participate.

"Once I receive the list of names and addresses back from the school and we get an eligible case," said Judge Hunter, "we will subpoena a panel of them in as jurors."

Hunter said he will expect the potential jurors to be honest with him regarding whether they believe they can fairly, without prejudice, decide the case. He said they will go through the same process as each and every juror does for district or circuit court.

Lehti said the jury list will be ready in about two weeks. Judge Hunter anticipates that the first teen jury trial will take place within the next 60 days and said the program could be involved in about ten cases annually.

Local Students Introduced To 'Writing to Learn'

The middle school students in Mr. Bedford's third hour math class were probably surprised when he asked them to write a paragraph explaining the step-by-step mathematical procedure involved in subtracting 17 from 43.

This approach to teaching, whether it is math, science, history, or home economics is called "writing to learn", and is one phase of a three phase teaching technique being introduced to teachers in the Crawford-AuSable School District (CASD).

The Whole Language Approach, as it is called by Dr. Alan Weber, Associate Chair of Teacher Education at Central Michigan University, are techniques or tools teachers can use to help their students comprehend and understand their lessons more thoroughly.

Marti Ingvarsson, a 7th and 8th grade English teacher and past chairperson of the Crawford-AuSable Schools' Professional Development Committee, explained that at the Grayling Middle School the "writing to learn" techniques encourages students to translate what they have just read or learned into the written language using skills the students already possess.

"By writing and seeing and thinking and perhaps verbalizing about what the student has just read," said Ingvarsson, "he will learn and retain more about the subject matter than if he answered questions on a ditto paper, picking out whether the answer is a, b, or c. The student could guess at that."

"Writing crystallizes our thinking," she said. "In order to write anything, the student must make certain decisions." She explained that the student must think about what he wants to write and how he wants to write the material so that it can be understood by himself and everyone who reads his writings.

If the student does not understand the assigned materials he is to write about, writing it, even in his own words, becomes impossible. The student cannot bluff or guess at a solution and both the student and teacher become aware that a problem in comprehension exists. The material must be understood before the student can complete the writing assignment.

Ingvarsson said writing when used as a tool does not have to be graded with an A, B, C, etc., but rather credited as done or not done. With these types of writing assignments, she said teachers should not get hung-up on punctuation marks or whether every word was spelled correctly and mark the student's paper with a lot of red ink, which can discourage rather than encourage the student's desire to explore the field of writing.

In "Learning to write", phase two at the middle school, Ingvarsson said students learn the writing process, the steps authors go through to complete a polished piece of writing. Students learn to write for different audiences and purposes such as poetry, essays, personal journals, reflective writing, letters, etc. This type of instruction will come primarily from English teachers.

Terri Wakeley, elementary special education teacher and chairperson of the Professional Development Committee, said that at the K-2 levels, teachers using the Whole Language Approach will begin teaching at whatever language level each student possesses when they begin school.

Wakeley said at the kindergarten level, the children will probably begin learning to write by drawing pictures and then at the beach. Once written, the students are encouraged to share what they have written with classmates or even students from other classrooms.

Both Ingvarsson and Wakeley stressed that the Whole Language Approach involves teaching tools and will not take the place of reading instruction; however, Wakeley said studies have shown that children can use their own writing, even if words are not spelled correctly, to begin to learn to read.

Young children are being encouraged to use invented spelling, which allows them to write the word as it sounds, and continue writing. The object is to have the child get as much written language as they can down on paper based on their own internal language and not to become concerned about punctuation, spelling or grammar.

As each child progresses in school spelling, punctuation and correct grammatical usage will be introduced to the child's own writing to enable the child to perfect his writing skills.

Once the Whole Language Approach is accepted by elementary school teachers, Wakeley said what is traditionally thought of as first or second grade materials becomes less important than just looking at the child, forgetting rigid academic requirements and instead, focusing on the child's language development and begin teaching from that point.

"If we try to force a child into a certain reading program or any type of structured published program that he is not ready for it is just not going to work," said Wakeley. "We cannot skip the development that must come first."

Wakeley said that several years down the road, because of this emphasis on writing, she hopes to not only see students begin to enjoy reading and writing and doing more of both, but that this improvement will carry over and be reflected in higher test scores.

Dr. Weber's philosophy on writing as a learning tool was discovered when four middle school teachers took weekend classes taught by Dr. Weber. The middle school's English dept. was looking for a writing component for its language arts department, so the CASD Professional Development Committee contracted with Dr. Weber, who owns an independent consulting firm, to introduce his techniques to CASD teachers through a series of in-service meetings this year. Dr. Weber has worked with the K-2 staff for four or five half-day in-services and six times with a six member middle school team, who in turn, are in-servicing the middle school staff. The middle school team teachers, Judy Mesack, Marilyn Stancil, Bill Bedford, Fred Wolcott, Dawn Feldhauser and Marti Ingvarsson, have met numerous times with the middle school staff to both share materials and ideas from Dr. Weber and as a support group.

Next year, the tentative plan is to introduce the Whole Language Approach to 3-5 and 9-12th grade teachers so that every CASD teacher will be familiar with the techniques.

talking about their pictures to the teacher or a friend.

"A first grade student might draw a picture and write something underneath the picture, which no one else can read except the child," she explained, "then the student will share what they have written with the rest of the class or with a friend."

"The idea being that each child uses their own words to write and then begin the reading process," said Wakeley.

First grade students are also writing in daily journals, again, to help them become comfortable with the writing process and so that the children will learn to enjoy writing whether it is a story they have created, a poem, or a recollection of a fun day

Dow Donates $1500 To Emergency Office

Dow Chemical Company of Midland has donated $1500 to the Crawford County Office of Emergency Management. The money is to be used to purchase much needed computer equipment for that office. As soon as the equipment is installed, all Crawford County Plans, Resource Lists and Response Lists will be placed on computer disks in order to make the information more readily available and to provide an efficient means of updating the plans at more frequent intervals.

One of the emergency plans maintained by the Crawford County Office of Emergency Management is the Offsite Response Plan and Standard Operating Procedures for the Beaver Creek Compressor Station which is operated by Dow. These offsite response plans, of which Crawford County has five, are mandated by the Superfund Amendments and Reauthorization Act of 1986.

If you've noticed the Avalanche looks different this week, it's the work of a new laser printer connected to Apple computers.

All of the news copy, headlines, classified ads, and many legal notices and display advertisements have been produced on the new equipment at our office.

Some of the improvements will be cleaner news copy, headlines, and ads and better alignment of items on pages.

The new equipment lets us do so much more with design, artwork, and lay-out. We hope to show you more improvements with each issue.

All of the regular features of the Avalanche are still in it — but the way they look may have changed a bit.

Let's Talk About It

By Joe Murphy

We are very fortunate in this area to have so many folks who are willing to volunteer their time and efforts for the good of the community. The volunteer fire departments are a good example. Besides the time spent fighting fires they spend many hours training so they will be able to do the best possible job at any type of fire in our area. There are many types of fires that could take place here: chemical, electrical, explosive ordinance, petroleum, aircraft, as well as structure and woods fires. They must have the training to know instantly the correct response to each type of fire. The wrong response could be very dangerous to all concerned. We all know that those fire departments are needed to protect life and property in this area. If we had to hire men full time to provide this service our tax bills would be sky high. So take a few minutes to thank your friends and neighbors that serve in the fire departments in our area. Volunteer firemen, we salute and thank you for a job well done.

Another group of people that deserve a lot of thanks are the Emergency Medical Technicians who man the ambulances in our area. In most cases they provide life sustaining service as soon as they reach a patient. They continue to give emergency treatment during transport to a medical facility. This treatment has saved many lives that would have been lost in the old lead and transport days. They spend many hours training. Our hats off to you E.M.T.'s thank you! We hope we never need your service, but take great comfort in the fact you are there if needed. Thank you again.

Let's not forget to thank all those fine people that volunteer their time, efforts and funds to provide for the needs of those less fortunate members of the community. Remember when you see those people out selling tickets, papers, white canes and all projects that raise funds to support the programs that help those in need be as generous as possible. They provide many services that our community really needs. To each and every one of you that volunteers to serve to meet the needs of others A well deserved thank you! You are the people that make this a community, not just a gathering of shops and houses.

THE MICHIGAN LEGISLATURE now can roll up its sleeves and get to work. Everything is in place.

Following Gov. James Blanchard's State of the State message a short while back, the governor has now unveiled his general fund budget for the 1990-91 fiscal year, starting in October.

In lawmaking, almost everything revolves around the budget. That's because almost everything government does carries a price tag. That's true on the local, state and national levels of government.

Certainly some ideas which don't depend upon the budget get into law — but not many. Education, welfare, prisons, environmental protection, law enforcement they are all part of the budget.

The Blanchard spending blueprint for the coming fiscal year would hit $7.6 billion. The figure boggles the mind. That's an increase of 3.8 percent over the present budget for the present fiscal year.

But in a two-edged budget message, the governor also called for 2.5 percent almost-across-the-board reductions in state spending right now so the present fiscal year budget will balance as of September 30, 1990. Exempt from the slashes are education and aid to local governments.

Some of that money goes back in next year, probably. Most departments are in for at least a modest increase in spending for the 1990-91 year.

THE NEW BUDGET, says Mr. Blanchard, is not extravagant.

"It is a very, very tight budget," the governor says. That's what they all say. When have you heard a government executive, when submitting a budget, say that it was a loose budget? All government budgets are tight, according to the officials who propose them.

The key element in the Blanchard proposal is higher spending for education. He has proposed raising state aid to local schools by 14 percent overall, and state aid for higher education by 5 percent overall. The state supports 15 state colleges and universities, and 29 community colleges.

"The most important thing to keep in mind is education is the No. 1 priority in the budget," Gov. Blanchard said.

Almanac

Now Lawmakers can get to work

He won't get much of an argument overall from Republicans in the legislature. They want to spend more state dollars for schools, too; the important questions will be how and how much.

Sen. John Engler, Republican leader in the Senate and Mr. Blanchard's likely election opponent in November, apparently isn't all that impressed with the governor's plea for schools.

"I'm the candidate supporting the education community, and he's playing catch-up," said Mr. Engler.

Schools are in the middle, and this time they're happy to be there.

"We're in a bidding war over K-12 education, and I think it's great," said Sen. Dan DeGrow of Port Huron, chairman of the education spending subcommittee in the senate.

"He (Gov. Blanchard) is kind of forced to bid with us (Republicans) in the war on who's going to help kids. Clearly he wants to get as close to us as he can to take that away as an issue."

MEANWHILE, NOT EVERYONE is thrilled with the education emphasis, especially those with other pet concerns.

"It looks to me like education is cannibalizing the rest of the state budget," note Sen. Robert Geake of Northville.

Rep. David Hollister of Lansing, a long-standing and vociferous champion of welfare programs, seemed especially upset, both by this year's proposed cuts and next year's proposed cuts and next year's proposed spending levels.

"Two-thirds of the people on general assistance are children. Eighty percent of the dollars spent on education doesn't go to children; it goes to schoolteachers, middle class folks. The money that goes to social services goes to poor people how can we educate kids who are not being fed and clothed?"

Strangely missing from the governor's budget message — indeed, from all the talk about next year's spending — is any hint of higher taxes.

Perhaps that's logical. After all, 1990 is an election year — for the governor's office, as well as for all 148 seats in the state legislature.

North by Range 30 fenced area, the South by North Down River Road, the West by the new Camp Grayling Mobilization and Training Equipment Site (MATES) and on the east by Stephan Bridge Road. The area will be posted and patrolled. It will be restricted only during testing periods.

LTC Dennis VanLiere, USAF, 1st Deputy Director of the Joint Munitions Test and Evaluation Program, from Eglin AFB, Florida, stated that personnel inside the fenced area will be wearing protective glasses and that both stationary and roving guards would be in strategic areas to insure that civilians and unauthorized personnel are kept out of the test area.

LTC Koppa said the lasers are dangerous only if a person were to look directly into the beam.

"And the chances of anyone looking directly into a laser has been compared to having an airplane drop on a person," he said.

Constant radio contact between an aircraft controller and the pilots will be maintained during laser operations so that laser operations can be terminated immediately should any unsafe conditions be observed.

Flight operations have been carefully planned to insure that helicopters will remain entirely over the range during missions and fixed-wing aircraft will fly in patterns which will, as much as possible, avoid populated areas. The fixed-wing aircraft will be a civilian-type aircraft purchased by the Department of Military Affairs for testing purposes.

LTC Tim Everett said that Project Chicken Little I was tested at Camp Grayling two years ago as part of Camp Grayling's research and development program. He said two primary factors are always considered before Camp Grayling approved an R&D project. The first elimination factor is environmental concerns and the second is the project's training impact.

"There are a number of other factors that are also considered," he stated, "but if the R&D does not meet the first two they are automatically eliminated."

Environmental evaluations of the project concluded that Chicken Little II activities were so similar to normal Camp Grayling training activities that there was no significant cause for environmental concerns.

Rabbit Housing Next Topic for Association

The next regular meeting of the Twin County Rabbit Breeders Association will be on February 25th at the Frederic Township Hall, 2 p.m.

The February meeting will feature Margaret Koske, Gaylord, who will cover the subject "Rabbit Housing". This subject has much to do with animal health, and success with rabbit raising.

With the recent appointment of Donna Pratt, Frederic, as Show Superintendent and Chairman of the show committee, plans are being made to hold the Association's first show. This will be the first time an exhibition of this kind will be held in this part of Michigan.

Ten White Pines Offered

Ten white pine trees will be given to each person who joins The National Arbor Day Foundation during February, 1990.

The free trees are part of the nonprofit Foundation's Trees for America Campaign.

"The white pines will add year-round beauty to your home and neighborhood," John Rosenow, the Foundation's executive director said. "They are fast-growing landscape trees with soft needles and graceful branching. You can use them as specimen trees or as a privacy screen or windbreak...even as a beautiful sheared hedge."

The trees will be shipped postpaid at the right time for planting between March 1 and May 31 with enclosed planting instructions. The six to twelve inch trees are guaranteed to grow or they will be replaced free of charge.

To become a member of the Foundation and to receive the free trees, send a $10 membership contribution to TEN PINES, National Arbor Day Foundation, 100 Arbor Avenue, Nebraska City, Nebraska, 68410, by February 28, 1990.

Membership has steadily increased from an initial 6 charter members to a current 29. Ten joined at the January meeting. Matmen Head to State Final

Sports

The Grayling Matmen won the regional title by defeating Iron Mountain 37-29 and Rogers City, 36-28, at St. Ignace last Wednesday, February 14, and will be among eight schools to compete at the state finals at Battle Creek on March 2 and 3rd.

This is the first time Grayling has won the regional title since the competition began three years ago.

"All the teams from the Upper Peninsula are tough," said coach Don Ferguson, "and Iron Mountain was no exception."

Grayling took the first five weight classes which gave them a good lead, but the win came when Denny Springer, 171, pinned his opponent.

One of the big matches in the competition was when Andy Moore, 125, defeated Dave Strand, 6-5. Strand finished in second place the week before in the Upper Peninsula.

Ferguson said Jeremie Harwood replaced Joe LaForest who broke his collar bone in competition the week before and did a nice job for the team.

The Rogers City win was important, because it was a turn around victory, Grayling having lost to Rogers City earlier in the season.

The turn around occurred when Doug Doty pinned Adam Saile, Don Baker pinned Chad Socloeten and Denny Springer pinned Brian Spera. At that point, Grayling was ahead by 11 points with two weights left, each worth six points.

The win came when Pat Gizinski, 189, who came out in the second semester, defeated Kevin Stemphy, 4-2.

Winning two matches for Grayling were: Dan Jurkovich, 103; Chad Broeker, 112; Andy Moore, 125; Doug Doty, 145 and Denny Springer, 171.

Winning one match were: Terry Sorenson, 119, Sam Mack, 130, Don Baker, 152, Todd Thorsen, 160, and Pat Gizinski, 189.

Six Grayling wrestlers qualified last Saturday, February 17, at the individual regional tournament at Hart for the individual state finals in Battle Creek on February 23 and 24th.

To qualify, wrestlers had to finish in the top four places in their weight division.

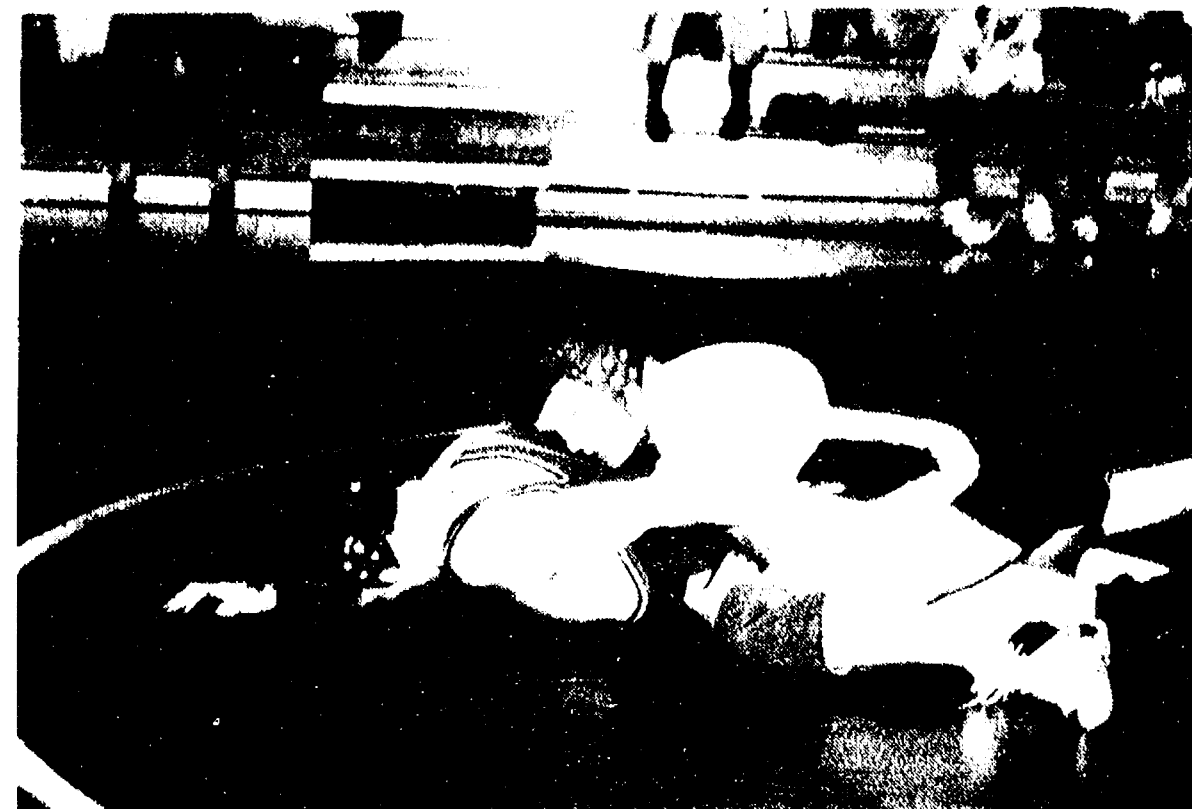

Sam Mack took a second place in the 130 pound weight class.

Finishing third were Denny Springer, 171, and Chad

Broeker, 112.

Fourth place finishers included Andy Moore, 125; Terry Sorenson, 119, and Todd Thorsen, 160.

There are 16 wrestlers left in each weight division in the state.

Here's a surprising fact... The coach with the best winning percentage of all time in the National Basketball Association is NOT Red Auerbach as many would guess, but Pat Riley of the Los Angeles Lakers... Riley started this season having won 73% of all NBA games he coached in his career... Auerbach won 66%... Second to Riley is K.C. Jones who won 70% of all his games.

Ever wonder why ice hockey games are played in 3 periods with 2 intermissions, while other sports like basketball and football have just one intermission or halftime? The reason is that 2 intermissions are needed in each hockey game to repair the ice and make it playable.

One of the most amazing pro boxing bouts of all-time took place on Feb. 26, 1941 when Pat Carroll and Sammy Secret threw so many punches at each other, they both were unable to continue and the referee ruled the fight an unusual double knockout.

Vikings Beat Gaylord, Stay in 1st

Four Viking players shot in double figures against Gaylord on Friday, February 16, helping Grayling beat Gaylord, 61-52, and hang onto first place in the Michigan Huron Shores Conference, tied with Charlevoix, 9-3.

Jim Abney, Kirk Annis and Shane Fraser scored 12 points each and Scott Nicholas followed with 11. In addition, Abney and Annis grabbed 12 and 14 rebounds respectively and Annis and Nicholas were credited with three steals each.

Varsity coach Tom Mills said Friday night's game was an example of Grayling's ability to play good team defense (contrary to Tuesday's game against Rogers City).

Mills said Kirk Annis' has been improving all season, and last week turned in another good performance. He said Scott Nicholas came off the bench and put in a good game both offensively and defensively.

"Grayling played with team intensity," Mills said. "Gaylord is our closest rival in the Huron Shores Conference and it felt good to beat them twice in one year."

Other Vikings to score Friday night were: Matt Branch 9, Eric LaForest 3 and Chad Bonamie finished with 2.

Jim Abney's 25 points and 15 rebounds helped the Vikings defeat Rogers City, 63-50, on Tuesday, February 13.

Grayling led Rogers City 11-8 at the end of the first quarter and 29-21 at half time in a game Mills called sloppy and inconsistent in comparison to past Viking performances.

"I don't think Grayling winning the game was ever in question," said Mills, "but we definitely could have played better ball."

As a team, Grayling shot 78 percent from the free throw line, Annis was 8 for 10 and Abney shot 5 for 6, but they shot only 30 percent from the floor.

Branch, Fraser and Annis also scored in double figures with 11, 10 and 10 points.

Freshmen Beat Bucks

A half time defensive adjustment helped the Freshmen come back and win their Monday night game with Roscommon, 45-38.

The Roscommon Bucks played good defense and a controlled offense to lead at half time, 22-16, but Freshmen coach Bill Klinger said in addition to their half time defensive adjustment, the Vikings offensively began pushing the ball up the floor and took the lead half way through the fourth quarter.

Good foul shooting by Jason Neeley (5 for 6) and Steve Branch (2 for 3) helped the Chad Bonamie had 5 points and Ron Doe finished with 2.

Grayling will be traveling to St. Ignace for their last away game of the season on Friday, February 23, and will be hosting the Soo the following week for parent's night, the final game of the season.

State Farm, the people best known for car and home insurance, was just rated the best for life.

When Best's Review, one of the insurance industry's most authoritative publications, ranked life insurance companies by policy performance - dividends actually paid to policyholders over the last 20 years - State Farm Life was at the very top.* State Farm Life's whole life policies outperformed those of every other major company.

Of course, that superior performance didn't surprise people who already own State Farm Life insurance. They knew it all along.

This is another example of State Farm's continued commitment to provide the very best value possible to its policyholders.

Diponio Earns Trip to State

Viking Skiers finished fifth out of 17 teams at the regionals last Thursday and Tony Diponio qualified for state finals.

A total of 117 boys and 97 girls skied at Schuss Mt. to settle what teams would represent region 4 at the state finals. To no one's surprise it was Traverse City's and Petoskey's boys and in girls competition it was Traverse City's and Charlevoix's girls.

The boys team finishes were T.C., Petoskey, Charlevoix, Harbor Springs, Grayling, and Gaylord with the top 6 spots. Roscommon was shifted into Region 4 this year and finished 16th.

In girls competition it was T.C., Charlevoix, Petoskey, Gaylord, Harbor Springs, and Boyne City rounding out the top 6 with Roscommon 10th, and Grayling 13th.

"Our boys skied the best slalom of the year beating Traverse City and tying Petoskey. However, our giant slalom wasn't of the same level and we finished 7th in giant slalom for a 5th place total," said Grayling coach Mike Wieland.

Tony Diponio finished 5th in slalom out of the 102 boys in slalom. That earned him a spot as an individual in the state finals next Monday at Crystal Mt. near Thompsonville. Tony finished 27th in giant slalom.

Senior John Jurkovich just missed the top ten with an 11th in slalom and a 34th in giant slalom. Pete Oppermann placed 15th in slalom with two solid runs and 41st in giant slalom. Jon Renaud was 39th in slalom but put together a pair of solid giant slalom runs to lead the Vikings in that event, placing 24th. Jon's second giant slalom race finished in the top 10 of the meet.

Andy Burkley placed 50th out of the field of 102. Shane Lovely placed 82nd in giant slalom and Chris Lehti disqualified in both events.

The Grayling girls were once again led by sophomore Karen Febey as she placed 23rd in giant slalom and 44th in slalom despite a costly fall. Senior Anne Petroskey finished her 3rd year varsity racing leading the Vikings in the slalom event placing 37th out of the 88 girls racing slalom. Anne finished 48th in giant slalom.

Jenni Lochner placed 70th in slalom and 62nd in giant slalom. Elissa Cox placed 71st in slalom and disqualified in giant slalom. Tara Bertalan placed 73rd in slalom and was also disqualified in giant slalom.

The Vikings hosted the MHSAA Regional for the 8th straight year and were pleased by the number of Grayling people that helped make the meet a successful one.

Check of Fault Proposed

A $12.5 million project for round-the-clock monitoring of the Hayward fault--considered the most likely source on the next earthquake in Northern California--has been proposed by scientists with the Lawrence Berkeley Laboratory and the University of California's Berkeley campus.

Experts say there is a 30-percent chance of a 7.0 magnitude quake along the Hayward fault within the next 30 years. More than 60 miles long and running through a heavily populated urban area, the Hayward fault is thought to pose a greater threat to Bay Area life and property than the San Andreas fault.

Bits of Talk

The class of 1970 is still looking for some of its members: Barb Spitz, Rick Rybolt, Cheryl Holcomb. Doesn't anyone have any ideas? Please call me with any suggestions at all.

Don and Jean Feldhauser called the other evening to say how thrilled they were to have a loggerhead shrike at their bird feeder this past week.

The Fact-Finders, a genealogy group for this area, will meet in Gaylord in the basement of the Old Kent Bank Wednesday evening, February 21, at 7 o'clock. Although the group was started in Gaylord and meets there, they are very anxious to have anyone from the area who is interested in searching for ancestors to come join the group. For more information you may call me.

Gene Rauch was the guest of honor at a Gildner family gathering at the home of Mrs. Matilda Gildner on State Street on Sunday, February 18, 1990. Gene retired from the State Corrections Department and the family had a potluck dinner and presented him with a watch. Matilda is enjoying all of the family activities this winter as this is the second retirement dinner in recent weeks.

Millie Crosby is having back surgery at St. Mary's Hospital, Saginaw, today (Thursday, February 22). I'm sure that she would enjoy cards from her friends.

Mrs. Zoe Hayes has been a patient at the University of Michigan Hospital for about three weeks and is now at home and recovering quite well. Her granddaughter, Suzette Moss of Newport Richey, Florida, came to be with her and had her baby boy here, which made five generations in the family. Suzette's mother, Ann Moss, also came from Newport Richey to spend some time and she and Suzette and baby returned to Florida.

About your Social Security

Between now and the end of March, eligible people can sign up for Medicare medical insurance (Part B of Medicare). The open enrollment period is set aside each year to allow people to change their minds if they did not previously choose to have the medical insurance portion of Medicare, or once had it and dropped it.

The medical insurance part of Medicare helps pay the costs of physicians' services, outpatient hospital services, durable medical equipment, and certain other medical items and services not covered by Medicare hospital insurance.

For people who enroll now, medical insurance protection starts July 1. The basic premium rate this year is $28.60 a month, and it increases by 10 percent for each year an eligible person chooses not to enroll.

For more information about Medicare coverage, call toll-free 800-888-1998.

A representative is at the County Building in Grayling on the first and third Tuesday, 10:30 - 2:00. There is no phone service at this location. The toll-free number for Social Security is 800-234-5772.

Verse or Worse

By Joe Murphy

MY ROLLTOP DESK

I've finally got a rolltop desk
I've wanted one for a long time
It's hand made of solid oak
And it looks really fine

A man named Donald Clingerman
Did the job and did it well
That he takes pride in his work
One look at that desk will tell

The fit and finish show the care
With the way the job was done
Every joint is tight and square
And the finish, not a run

In this day of, That's good enough
I was surprised to find a man
Who will not settle for less
Than to do the best job that he can

I'm very proud of my new desk
I'm sure I'll like it more each day
Now I can just roll down the top
Instead of putting all my junk away

HERE KITTY, KITTY--The Crawford County Animal Shelter has several nice adult cats along with their usual litter or two of kittens. To see these cats and all other pets available for adoption, the shelter is open Monday through Friday from 1-3 p.m. and on weekends from 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Animal Care Tip

Strings used by butchers to tie some types of roasts and fowl become smeared with pieces of meat which entice pets, but animals may become ill if they swallow the strings. Be careful even when throwing it away. Pets can raid garbage cans and wind up needing veterinarian care, warns the Animal Protection Institute.

"That's not much when you consider they've never been used."

Resource Review

By Bruce Patrick,
Conservation Officer

As we enter the 1990's there is no doubt that waste management will come to the forefront as one of society's most pressing environmental problems. Solid waste, hazardous waste and nuclear waste are causing serious problems now that will only get worse as the world's population grows.

Past practices of waste disposal are becoming obsolete and options such as recycling meet with opposition due to cost and inconvenience. But that cost and inconvenience are insignificant compared to what will be facing us if we don't do something constructive soon. In Michigan alone, 32,000 tons of solid waste is generated every day.

One way to accomplish a state goal of reducing landfilling to 10% by the year 2005 is to reduce the amount of waste generated. The best and most effective way to reduce waste is not to make it. By reducing waste generation, the total solid waste disposal load can be lessened by 8 to 12 percent. Businesses will have to play a significant role in this process, but instead of costing them money, they will find a net savings as the cost of raw materials and waste disposal increase. Many businesses statewide are already finding this to be true.

The Office of Waste Reduction Services is a non-regulatory initiative by the Departments of Natural Resources and Commerce which is designed to help businesses locate and take advantage of opportunities to reduce wastes.

Give them a call (517-333-1178) and see how they can help you reduce costs and clean up the environment.

ICICLE

When I see an icicle
I think I see a sword
ready to be used in battle,
I think of winter time
frozen in a spiral.
I think I see the magic
of a unicorn's horn.
I think I see the shine
of diamonds looking out at me.
I think I see something out of fairy land.
But I know its really water

Out of 83 Michigan counties, Crawford County was first in the sale of E bonds. And in that issue our county sold 50% over its quota. This is a marvelous record of which we may all be justly proud. According to population, one out of every six men, women and children in Crawford County purchased at least one E bond. And a gratifying thing about it is that this drive was made without any fanfare, entertainment, drive, solicitation or bond sale party. People just came out and "laid their money on the barrelhead" of their own free will and accord. The Crawford County Bond Sale Committee is grateful to everyone who may have contributed to this success. There will probably be a fifth war loan drive in a few months but in the meantime it is hoped that everyone will systematically purchase War Savings stamps.

The annual Senior Prom was held last Saturday night in the High School gym. Decorations were carried out in a unique musical theme which added much gaiety and color to the gym. A popular song was dedicated to each Senior and a large replica of their songs adorned the gym walls. A fan of vivid colors spangled with notes and musical scores painted a delightful background for Loton Willson's orchestra which provided excellent music for dancing. Twelve o'clock marked the Grand March, which was led by Billyann Clippert and Allan Stevenson. The Senior Class, under directorship of Mrs. Marius Hanson, their sponsor, is to be complimented on their party, which was one of the highlights of the school year.

Tuesday of this week Carl W. Peterson, owner of Peterson Beverages, manufacturer of carbonated beverages, sold his interests to Taracks Distributors of Alpena. This has been a fine business and has been built up to not only a high standard of products but to a large volume. It is because of his health that Mr. Peterson has been obliged to give up the business. For a brief interval however, he will remain with the new owners Howard Taracks and Louis Douville, both of Alpena until a new manager can be secured.

Many Grayling residents will be interested to know that word comes regularly from Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Dickason, now located at Gordon College, Rawalpindi, Punjab, India. Mrs. Dickason, the former Bertha Bates, attended the Grayling school while her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bates, resided here. Gordon College is a Presbyterian institution located high up in the Himalaya Mountains. Three years ago at Christmas time, bombing of Rangoon by the Japanese forced the Dickasons to leave Judson College (Baptist) where both were members of the faculty. Mrs. Dickason is a medical missionary and also active in Girl Scout work. Mrs. Dickason, with her four children, made the trip into the Himalayas two months prior to her husband's coming. He had remained to care for the college interests, later aiding in evacuations, hospitals, getting food to soldiers and civilians, many times leaving just ahead of the Japs and having many narrow escapes. His letters describing conditions in this war area are finding interested readers. Mr. and Mrs. Dickason and family plan to remain where they are until after the war, as it is relatively safe territory and they are back at college work.

Included in the civilian and military enrollment of 6,361 students at Michigan State College this winter are three students from Crawford County according to R.S. Linton, registrar. They are Mary Jane Joseph, senior, Gloria Frances MacNeven, senior, and Virginia Ruth Scott, senior, from Grayling.

Following the Senior Prom last Saturday evening, several friends of Caroline Jane Post gathered at Zauel's to help her celebrate her 18th birthday. The girls in the party made and decorated a lovely birthday cake, with "Best Wishes, Janie" inscribed on it. After the opening of gifts the remainder of the evening was spent in dancing. The party was held in the private dining room and all reported a grand time. Those attending were Ernestine Stephan and Beverly Stephan, Helen Gould, Donna Brown, Betty Smith, Bennie Allen, Ed Howse, John Harmer, Gerald and Dale Burns and Jack Post.

St. John to Host World Day of Prayer

15th Annual Shrove Tuesday Meal Set

World Day of Prayer is planned for March 2, at St. John Lutheran Church ELCA, 710 Spruce St. at 1 p.m. All Christian women of the community (men will not be excluded) are invited to attend. This program is sponsored each year by a different church.

This is a global event that once a year unites women of faith in 70 countries and regions of the world to share in a common worship experience and pray the same prayers for peace with justice for all people of this planet. The 1990 service, written by Christian women of Czechoslovakia, brings Christ's message of equality as it was brought to that country over a thousand years ago. The theme, "A Better Tomorrow: Justice for All," reflects the positive changes toward justice felt in Czechoslovakia today. Fourteen Czech women poured their thoughts, prayers and faith into the creation of worship materials that will be translated into countless languages and shared this day.

Since its founding in 1941, Church Women United, has been the official sponsor of World Day of Prayer in the United States and has assumed responsibility for distribution of WDP resources to more than 6,000 U.S. communities and churches where the event is observed. CWU is the ecumenical movement that brings Protestant, Roman Catholic, Orthodox and other Christian women together in one community of prayer.

St. Francis Episcopal Church on M-72 West is sponsoring its 15th annual Shrove Tuesday Mardi Gras Pancake Supper Tuesday, February 27th, from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. in the church's parish hall.

Donations will be $3 for adults, $2 for children under 12, and children under 6 may eat free. Ten percent of the proceeds will be given to some outreach or needy cause.

The menu will feature blueberry and plain pancakes, all you can eat, as well as sausage, applesauce and potato pancakes with sour cream.

The Kitchen Band from the Senior Citizen's Center will be performing.

Cards of Thanks

The family of William H. Duke would like to thank Father Michael Conner for performing the service and his support in our time of need. We'd also like to thank everyone who came to the service or sent a card, we'd also like to thank Sorenson Funeral Home for all of their help.

The Bible Speaks

From Calvary Baptist Church

The Gospel of John Part # 114 Behold, Christ's Burial

Jesus Christ was buried in the tomb of a rich man as prophesied centuries earlier in Isaiah 53:9. Two secret disciples, Joseph of Arimathea and Nicodemus gave Christ an honorable burial worthy of royalty. "And after this Joseph of Arimathea, being a disciple of Jesus, but secretly for fear of the Jews, besought Pilate that he might take away the body of Jesus: and Pilate gave him leave. He came therefore, and took the body of Jesus." (John 19:38). Joseph was described as "rich" (Matthew 27:57), "an honorable counsellor", (Mark 15:43), "a good man, and a just", (Luke 23:50), and one who opposed the action taken against Jesus Christ. (Luke 23:51). A good man who remained a secret disciple for fear of men.

After gaining possession of the body, they began preparation for burial. "And there came also Nicodemus, which at the first came to Jesus by night, and brought a mixture of myrrh and aloes, about an hundred pound weight. Then took they the body of Jesus, and wound it in linen clothes with the spices, as the manner of the Jews is to bury." (John 19:39,40). This Jewish burial method is another reminder that Jesus Christ was dead when he was placed in the tomb. Oh, how they must have wished they had given Christ such honor in life.

The place of burial was Joseph's own tomb. (Matthew 27:60). Now in the place where he was crucified there was a garden; and in the garden a new sepulchre, wherein was never man yet laid. There laid they Jesus therefore because of the Jews' preparation day; for the sepulchre was nigh at hand." (John 19:42). (John 19:41, 42).

These two secret disciples of Jesus Christ remind us of the daily choices you and I must make concerning Jesus Christ. Will we serve God or money? Who will we serve? You can't serve both. (Luke 16:13). Who will we fear, God or men? Joseph and Nicodemus seem to be among the Jewish leaders of John 12:43,43, who believed on Jesus Christ but did not publicly confess Him for fear of losing their position and respect. "For they loved the praise of men more than the praise of God."

Are you a secret disciple of Jesus Christ who is ashamed to publicly confess Him? Jesus has a message for you: "Whosoever therefore shall be ashamed of me and of my words in this adulterous and sinful generation; of him also shall the Son of man be ashamed, when he cometh in the glory of his Father with the holy angels." (Mark 8:38). (Hear "The Bible Speaks" at 12:15 p.m. Tuesday on WQON 100 FM).

He Bore A Nation

This week, we, as a nation and as individuals, celebrate the birthday of George Washington, our nation's first president.

George Washington fought many hard battles for our country, both literally and figuratively. He had faith that the people of this young nation could govern themselves as a country, and laid the cornerstone on which our rights and freedoms would soon be established.

Today, we sometimes take our rights and freedoms for granted. We must remember that many of our forefathers died for these causes, giving us the gift of a free nation.

One of these special rights is that of religious freedom. Exercise that right this week in your local house of worship.

Prescription Credit Available for Seniors

The Michigan prescription drug credit helps low-income older people pay for their prescription drugs. If you are a Michigan resident who reached age 65 by December 31, 1989, you may be eligible for this credit. The money is pro-rated which means there is limited money available. However as Sherry Haag, the project manager of the Commission on Aging said, "It is going to benefit the seniors in the community — anything helps."

If you are 65 or older and single, and your household income is less than $8,970, or if you are 65 or older and married, and your household income is less than $12,030, and you have spent at least 5 percent of your income for prescription drugs in 1989, you can claim the credit.

To apply for the credit, you must file the "Prescription Drug Credit Claim Form". Many senior citizens received this form as part of the home heating tax credit booklet. If you did not receive one, you can ask for a copy at your local library, Secretary of State office, or Department of Treasury office. You can also order a copy of the form by calling 1-800-FORM-2-ME (367-6263). If you need help in filling out the forms there are staff available at the Commission On Aging office at 308 Lawndale, Grayling, MI.

Your pharmacy should be able to provide you with a year-end report of your 1989 prescription drug purchases. Any amounts that Medicaid paid or other insurances reimbursed to you cannot be counted toward the credit.

If you are 65 or older but your spouse is not, you may still claim the credit, but you claim a credit only for your personal prescription drugs — you cannot count your spouse's drug costs.

The maximum credit for a single person is $600. The maximum for a married couple, both of whom are over 65, is $1,200.

You can file for this credit anytime between January 1 and June 1, 1990. The checks will be mailed after June 1.

Under present rules, the credit is not reported as income.

The instruction for filling out the claim are printed on the back of the form. If you need further help, you can call the Department of Treasury at 1-800-877-MICH (6424).

There is a follow-up program coming in the near future for emergency prescription funding. These monies will be available for senior citizen use as well. Haag feels that with the use of these two programs it will "open the eyes of legislation to the need of help with prescription drugs" for senior citizens.

HAND-IN-HAND--Mike, Mo and Larry McNamara, owners of Mac's Drug Store, are shown presenting Probate Judge John G. Hunter with a computer system for the county's Probate Court. The system had been used at Mac's until they upgraded a few months ago. Judge Hunter said the donation was one more example of business and government working to support one another in Crawford County.

Travel Series Visits New Zealand March 1

On Thursday evening, March 1, the Crawford AuSable Community Education Office will present its 5th program of the TRAVEL AND ADVENTURE FILM SERIES at 7:30 p.m. in the Joseph Stripe Auditorium at Grayling High School.

"New Zealand" gives an incredible sense of space in a relatively small area. Mountains, beaches, rolling countryside, volcanoes, glaciers and busy industrial areas. "New Zealand" is a world in miniature.

You'll visit Auckland, New Zealand's largest city. At the "Waitangi" celebration, find out the background of New Zealand's Maori heritage.

Rotorua is an area of intense thermal activity. Boiling mud, mineral hot pools, and the eventual energy for power plants, show the efficient usage of a natural resource.

You'll also take a ferry to the South Island, where we visit the Royal Albatross Sanctuary. Ride the Kingston Flyer, a 19th century steam engine. In Abel Tasman National Park, ride a launch to see the backcountry off the West Coast of the Island. Experience the jade industry and see the fabulous stone crafted into jewelry in Hokitika.

Explore the grand old city of Christchurch, called the most English city outside of England. A stop in Dunedin takes us to the rolling green hills and rugged coast reminiscent of Scotland.

Visit a sheep station and journey on to Doubtful Sound with rain forests and waterfalls. Milford Sound is a spectacular postcard with Mitre Peak reflected in its glassy waters.

Our last look at New Zealand is from the incredible 7000 foot thick Franz Josef Glacier. See spectacular Mt. Cook and the Southern Alps. Pat McCarrier will be the guide for this trip. Individual tickets may be purchased for $3.50 at the door.
